C.I.G. DIRECTIVE NO. ☐INTERIM SURVEY OF THE COLLECTION OF INTELLIGENCE INFORMATION IN CHINA

Memorandum by the Director of Central Intelligence, with the Unanimous Concurrence of the Intelligence
Advisory Board

1. By letter of 16 February 1946, Lieutenant General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, WDGS, transmitted to the Director of Central Intelligence an Intelligence Plan for Post-War China prepared by Headquarters, United States Forces, China Theater*. The Plan was referred to the Director "for consideration and any action considered appropriate."

2. The need for coordination of collecting activity is not peculiar to the China Theater. The issues raised in the Plan submitted typify broad collecting problems which the National Intelligence Authority must consider on a world-wide basis. Until these general collecting problems have been duly dealt with, the solution of the problems posed in the Plan may be incomplete. However, a study should be made to determine whether interim action is necessary in this case. The Central Intelligence Group will conduct a survey based upon the following outline:

a. The survey will include an examination of all facilities for the collection of intelligence information in China, in order to determine on an interim basis:

- (1) What facilities are available;
- (2) Which available facilities should be employed;

MEMORANDUM FOR AC OF S, G-2:

SUBJECT: CIG Staff Procedure

1. It is considered appropriate at this time to invite attention to the cumbersome machinery set up by CIG for the purpose of processing correspondence. Exceptions taken to this procedure, as exemplified by [] are:

25X1A

a. Although the Director of Central Intelligence takes para. 3 of NIA Directive #1 as his authority for the circulation of the CIG numbered series, machinery also exists in para. 7 of the same document whereby members of the Intelligence Advisory Board can authorize DCI to undertake studies of this nature without necessity of circulating JIG type documents. All that G-2 should require is notice of what DCI is investigating. Thereafter, the Advisory Board must concur in or comment on the recommendations of DCI prior to their submission to the NIA. However, there appears to be no compulsion on DCI to circulate formal draft directives each time he receives correspondence which can be acted upon by his own staff.

b. The Presidential Directive of 22 January, as interpreted by NIA Directive #1, permits CIG to effect the normal working level contacts so necessary to expeditious and complete staff action. Informal or formal requests by CIG to members of the Intelligence Advisory Board or their subordinates will, without doubt, produce required assistance for CIG staff action. For example, the author of the Intelligence Plan for Postwar China is now assigned to MID and should be available informally or formally to DCI to interpret this report or to sustain the recommendations made therein. Formal action by CIG should not be necessary in each instance to lift this self-imposed quarantine.

c. Review of the five papers of the CIG numbered series thus far circulated indicates in each instance a tendency to examine minutia (para. 1 of Tab A). The number of subdivisions of broad intelligence problems is infinite. Some other problems which require

NIA attention and which are considered of more importance than those already undertaken are suggested in para. 2 of Tab A.

25X1A

2. It would appear especially important for DCI to establish simplified machinery for the expeditious handling of problems of this nature. As regards [] the imminence of inactivation of the China Theater requires it.

3. Pursuant to the foregoing discussion, it is suggested that AC of S, G-2, take the first opportunity of discussing informally with DCI the present CIG philosophy of staff action which, it is held, is not altogether conducive of efficient and expeditious operation.

1. By letter of 16 February 1946, Lieutenant General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, WDGS, transmitted to the Director of Central Intelligence an Intelligence Plan for Post-War China prepared by Headquarters, United States Forces, China Theater*. The Plan was referred to the Director "for consideration and any action considered appropriate."

2. The need for coordination of collecting activity is not peculiar to the China Theater. The issues raised in the Plan submitted typify broad collecting problems which the National Intelligence Authority must consider on a world-wide basis. Until these general collecting problems have been duly dealt with, the solution of the problems posed in the Plan may be incomplete. However, a study should be made to determine whether interim action is necessary in this case. The Central Intelligence Group will conduct a survey based upon the following outline:

a. The survey will include an examination of all facilities for the collection of intelligence information in China, in order to determine on an interim basis:

- (1) What facilities are available;
- (2) Which available facilities should be employed;

* Available for reference in C.I.G.

(3) What agency (or agencies) should direct, control, and coordinate the effort;

(4) What distribution should be made of the Intelligence information collected.

3. The Central Planning Staff, C.I.G., will conduct the survey. It will be authorized to call for personnel indicated in paragraph 4, below, to appear and give such oral or written reports as may be required for the purposes of this survey.

4. Each member of the Intelligence Advisory Board will designate a representative to arrange details with the Information Branch, Central Planning Staff, and to furnish the C.I.G. a list of personnel authorized to give information for purposes of the survey. The designation of appropriate contact personnel in other Federal agencies will be arranged for as necessary.

5. The Central Planning Staff will submit its findings, conclusions, and recommendations to the Director of Central Intelligence. He will then submit appropriate recommendations to the National Intelligence Authority, after concurrence or comment by the Intelligence Advisory Board.
